

Alliance Data's LoyaltyOne Business Announces Multi-Year Consulting Services Agreement With U.K. Grocer Morrisons

April 14, 2016

Precima to provide customer-centric retailing insights and analytics support to U.K.'s fourth-largest grocer

Morrisons is a U.K. retailer with 492 stores, 117,000 employees, and circa 11 million customers per week.

Precima assists mid- to large-size businesses with thousands of SKUs (products), such as grocers, in improving their competitive position across all facets of planning and operations, from pricing optimization, promotional planning, assortment optimization, targeted marketing and supplier collaboration.

"At Morrisons, we listen hard to our customers and respond quickly wherever possible. We look forward to working with Precima so that we can improve the shopping trip for our customers," said Andy Atkinson, Group Marketing and Customer Director of Morrisons.

"Given LoyaltyOne's breadth and depth in loyalty, analytics and retail, we identified a business opportunity a few years ago and created Precima, a consulting, analytics and software solutions provider focused on using transaction-level data to understand the behavior of our clients' customers," said Bryan Pearson, president of LoyaltyOne. "Since then, Precima continues to make inroads in a data-rich, mobile and increasingly global competitive marketplace, helping leading retailers in North America and Europe build competitive advantage and loyalty through customer-centricity."
